Congress, Legislatures, Courts, Business Flayed In Report to A. F. of L.

CINCINNATI, O., June 12.—The report of organized labor's accomplishments in a year of unusual strife and unusual industrial depression was laid before the 43rd annual convention of the American Federation of Labor today in the report of the federation's executive council.

The report declared that American labor during the year not only suffered from the widespread unemployment that existed but was beset by opponents more active and determined than ever.

In addition to strictures on the conduct of employers in numerous cases, the report added explicit and pointed criticism of Congress and of some state legislative bodies, declaring such branches of the government to be "unconquering to a wave of reaction."

Part was found with the action of some courts, including the Supreme Court, and with what was described as President Harding's "proposal to regulate trade unions."

"It is with no little satisfaction in view of these circumstances," the report on the other hand declared, "that we are able to lay before this convention a report of achievement, a report of solidarity, a report of constructive planning, and a report that only inadequately portrays the militant spirit with which our movement has come through the years."

The report declared that in the direct labor field "workers in a number of industries have been compelled to resort to cessation of work," because "organized employers" were "unwilling to meet workers in conference for negotiation." The most important instance of this policy was declared to be the cause of the existing coal mine strike.

"The organized mine owners repudiated their agreement with the United Mine Workers of America," the report said, "compelling the mine workers to cease work."

"We know of no similar period of time in which there have been so many wanton violations of contract on the part of great organizations of employers. We submit that it is a vital essential that there be a return of good faith in industry, a return to standards of morality which will restore the pledges of men to their true and proper meaning."

Turning next to courts, the executive council pronounced "unjust and inhuman decisions" as that of the Supreme Court voiding the act intended to abolish child labor in the United States. Congress "by this decision, must keep its hands off when the health and life and well being of the nation's children are concerned," the report asserted.

"The year is marked particularly with an increasing hostility of the judiciary toward the effort of wage earners to prevent deterioration of their standards of life and labor," the report continued, "and we recommend that an appeal be made to that higher court of public judgment, and that the public conscience be aroused to the great and grave menace which confronts the perpetuity of the constitutional rights and liberties of all our people and as originally conceived by the founders of our republic."

Possibility of "relief from the constitutional use of the writ of injunction" by legislative action lay in the political field, the report said.

The executive council described its removal of non-partisan political campaign organizing in advance of the fall elections and expressed "satisfaction over the wonderful enthusiasm expressed" by every local organization of labor in the effort which it said proved that "not only the wage earners, but the great mass of our citizenship are crying for relief."

The campaign effort will be to focus votes behind a program of "opposition to compulsory labor law," and "opposition to injunctions and contempt proceedings as substitutes for trial by jury," the council said.

"Congress has proved that only those who are well-to-do or control great interests can induce it to listen," the council said, in detailing the reason why it asked the federation to enter the campaign for satisfactory candidates.

State legislative bodies also were taken to task in some cases, chiefly in the matter of compulsory arbitration laws. The Kansas industrial court was described as "an utter failure" and similar legislation in Colorado was said to be "equally as absurd and fully as dangerous."

President Harding was accused of having contemplated "a system of industrial laws similar to those which prevail in Kansas" when in his message to Congress last December he declared that "in the case of labor organizations we might well apply similar and equally well-defined principles of regulation and supervision (as he had just previously recommended for corporations) in order to conserve the public's interests as affected by their operations."

"The decisions of the Railroad Labor Board have given satisfaction neither to the workers or the management," the report remarked in considering the compulsory arbitration subject as demonstrated in transportation fields. "They have tended toward a mere general demoralization of morale or mechanical force. The Esch-Chambliss law, through the board, has practically destroyed the concept of voluntary agreements between employers and workers and the subject of compensation for services has become a constant source of litigation and irritation."

Returning to direct labor matters, organized labor agreed yesterday, the report said, "against organized campaigns for the establishment of the so-called open shop."

ceptions, have lent themselves to this disruptive propaganda," the report stated. "The United States Chamber of Commerce is about to begin construction of a $2,000,000 hotel and building in Washington on the open shop basis."

"There is but one answer to the entire campaign of employers for the disruption and destruction of the labor movement, and that is continued organization, external vigilance, and the highest degree of solidarity."

Banks have lent assistance to business organizations "to compel employers who desired to deal fairly with the trade unions to alter their course," the report further asserted. In this connection it was suggested that the boycott was available.

"Savings and deposits of wage workers in banks must be so controlled by workers as to protect fully the wage earner's interest in this connection," was the proposal advanced.

LASTING PROSPERITY ON THE WAY CREDIT MEN TOLD AT CONVENTION

INDIANAPOLIS, June 8.—Speakers told the National Association of Credit Men here today that the veil which has been clouding business gradually is being lifted with the result that the nation once again is on the road to prosperity and when that prosperity is reached it will be lasting.

Railroad Labor Board Cannot Be Enjoined by Court

Contending that the Railroad Labor Board is an arm of the government, analogous to the President or committee of Congress, Blackburn Eastline, special assistant attorney general of the United States, concluded arguments in the Court of Appeals a few days ago in the Pennsylvania test case by declaring that the board could not be sued or enjoined.

He pointed out that the injunction issued by the Circuit Court restraining the board from issuing a decision condemning the Pennsylvania state that the board's powers were only advisory. He therefore declared that advisory powers could not be enjoined, any more than the President could be enjoined from reporting to Congress, or a congressional committee from reporting its recommendations.

Judge Baker, sitting with Judges Alschuler and Evans, indicated, however, that he did not consider that question resolved.

"The fundamental question of this case is whether the board acted within its jurisdiction and in turn, if it did, whether the power under which it acted was constitutional," said Judge Baker.

The Pennsylvania, through its attorneys, T. J. Seeford and J. B. Helman, contended that the contemplated decision, which the board was enjoined from issuing, was without the board's jurisdiction. The case arose out of an order to hold certain conferences with employees to select representatives for the negotiating of shop rules.

FIRST SHOPMEN'S BALLOTS RECEIVED FAVOR A WALKOUT

Tabulation of Vote as Received
Began at Union Headquarters, Chicago.

NEW WAGE CUT SOON

Majesty Report of Railroad Labor
Board Completed With Regard to Another Slash of $40,000,000; Minority Report Delays Announcement

CHICAGO, June 13.—A corps of clerks in union headquarters of the railway shop crafts today began tabulating strike ballots as rapidly as returned from shopmen from the nation's roads. Each mail increased the return ballots, due not later than June 30.

Tabulation began with the first ballots favoring a strike. They were received last night from a Chicago electrical worker who wrote "yes" across the square in front of the three propositions. Nearly one and a half million ballots went out in the mail last Saturday.

CHICAGO, June 13.—The division in the personnel of the Railroad Labor Board, which resulted in vigorous dissenting opinion on the wage reduction totaling $110,000,000 effective July 1, already announced, will make its appearance again when another $40,000,000 or so is tacked on the pay checks of 350,000 more railway men this week.

The majority decision of the board was completed yesterday but the minority opinion will delay announcement for several days, it was learned today.

Two Steel Mills Resume.
MARTINS FERRY, O., June 13.—Two steel mills at the Whitaker-Glessner plant of the Wheeling Steel Corporation here resumed operations today.

LIMIT TO PATIENCE OF PUBLIC IN COAL STRIKE, SENATE TOLD

WASHINGTON, June 8.—The coal strike was brought back to Senate debate today by Senator Walsh, Democrat, Massachusetts, who declared there "is a limit to the patience of our people," and that "extortion is going on with apparent governmental approval."

"Whether operators or miners are responsible for prevailing conditions," Senator Walsh said, "the general public will begin to care less and less and will come to the inevitable conclusion the coal business is so organized that it is no longer being conducted on motives of service but on motives of greed and profit."

"The public is going to demand," he said, "that motives of service be superior to motives of profit but the chief trouble today in the bituminous situation is that motives of operators are not merely motives of future profits but motives of extortion and immediate gain."

"The public is tired of operators associating themselves to insure profit and laborers associating themselves to insure good wages. What the public will demand if this condition continues is a new system in the conduct of this business."

WEST VIRGINIA COAL LOADINGS SHOW INCREASE

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., June 12.—Coal production in Northern West Virginia for the week ending June 10, totalled 121,000 tons as against 102,500 tons for the previous week, according to railroad loading reports made public here today.

The largest gain was made by the Monongahela Railroad which increased from 7,750 to 11,550 tons. There were 150 more working in that region today as against 154 last week.

LESSONS STRIKE DANGER

With Keymen and Trainmen Remaining at Posts, Relief Is That Even in Event of Walkout, Roads Would Be Able to Continue Indefinitely.

CHICAGO, June 9.—Railway telegraphers probably will not be included in the third wage reduction order of the United States Labor Board, according to rumors today of the contemplated new slash from rail payrolls. The telegraphers number approximately $1,000. So many local conditions on various lines have to be considered that deliberation of an order affecting the telegraphers would consume weeks, it was said.

New wage cuts are to follow the $110,000,000 already tacked on the pay checks of 350,000 maintenance of way employees, 400,000 shop men and 350,000 clerk, stationery firemen, oilers and others, according to reports.

Chief among the groups are 220,000 clerks, 22,000 in the signal department and 80,000 freight handlers and trainmen. With telegraphers remaining at their keys it was predicted in some quarters that the likelihood of a strike would be lessened even if a strike of shopmen and railway employees is called. Some railroad executives contend that the roads could remain in operation for a considerable time if the telegraphers and trainmen did not join the walkout.

The families carry camping outfits and will make their journey by slow stages. They expect to visit the most interesting places between Pennsylvania and the coast.

If the Golden State is found to be their liking they may elect to remain there.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Alexander of East Connelville gave a farewell dinner for the members of the party Sunday.

GRANGERS PLAN FOR PURCHASING ORGANIZATION

Preliminary steps toward the organization of a buying organization in order to solve some of the problems of the market were taken at a meeting of the purchasing agents of the granges of the county at the second quarterly business meeting and picnic of Fayette County Pomona Grange Saturday at Dawson Driving Park which was attended by 200 members of the organization.

The day included the transaction of business, a picnic dinner addresses and a literary program.

In the morning Grange Master G. M. Griffin presided at a business session at which encouraging reports of most of the granges were given. At the first quarterly meeting of this year three men G. L. Conn of York, W. D. Hixon of Dawson and William Gaskill of Morning Star had been appointed as a committee to represent the county at the annual meeting of the National Grange at Washington, D. C. They reported the progressive work among many of the granges.

At noon the women of the Dawson Grange and Curlew Grange served a picnic dinner on the grounds.

In the afternoon addresses by F. L. Anthony of the dairy department of West Virginia University and County Farm Agent C. L. Rumberger were heard. Mr. Anthony brought a message of helping advice to dairy farmers of the county. He gave some interesting figures in the production of pure bred dairy stock.

Part of the afternoon and evening session were given over to literary program of which Miss Goldie T. Quinn, grange lecturer, had charge. Members of the Morning Star Grange staged a very successful entertainment of specialties originated by the grange.

The evening session began by the conferring of the fifth degree upon 75 candidates. The degree work was done by the team of Curlew Grange.

During the day's meetings plans for the county's exhibit of stock at the September Dawson fair were discussed. Indications point to more individual exhibitors this year and a greater showing of the county's stock. It is expected that one of the features will be the exhibition of pure bred Poland China hogs, which are rapidly being introduced here.

Pomona Grange is the centralized unit of the county granges and is aiding the individual granges in carrying out a county-wide campaign for closer cooperation in farm work. The next meeting of the Pomona Grange will be held in September.
